8.6 If item 8.5 is less than 2 quarters, please provide answers to the following questions:

8.6.1 Does the entity expect that it will continue to have the current level of net operating cash flows for the time being and, if not, why not?

Answer: Net operating cash outflows for the next two quarters will be reduced by receipt of the Company's 2022 R&D tax credit. The Company has calculated its 2022 R&D tax credit claim and had it reviewed by its specialist tax advisor. The Company claim is ~$4.9 million and the R&D tax credit is expected to be received in the second half of calendar 2022 after lodgement of the Company's 2022 tax return. Taking this assumed R&D tax credit into account as proforma cash in the calculation in item 8.5 above, the estimated quarters of funding available is 2.67 quarters.

In addition, the option granted by the Company to Aptar in August 2021 over the Company's "Orbital" inhaler technology, expires in August 2022. If exercised by Aptar prior to expiry, the Company will receive US$2.5 million (before taxes) during the next two quarters on account of exercise.

8.6.2 Has the entity taken any steps, or does it propose to take any steps, to raise further cash to fund its operations and, if so, what are those steps and how likely does it believe that they will be successful?

Answer: The Company has no immediate need to raise further cash to fund its operations as demonstrated by its response to 8.6.1 above. However, the Company regularly assesses its funding options in support of its ongoing development programs and operations.

8.6.3 Does the entity expect to be able to continue its operations and to meet its business objectives and, if so, on what basis?

Answer: Yes, based on the additional funds from the R&D tax credit as described above.

Note: where item 8.5 is less than 2 quarters, all of questions 8.6.1, 8.6.2 and 8.6.3 above must be answered.
